Major Makeover in Store for Mahwah Showroom and Warehouse

Bayport, New York - March 24, 2014: With growing business and a need to expand greater into the New Jersey market, Blackman Plumbing Supply, Inc. has announced a massive plan to renovate the Mahwah branch. Not only did the showroom receive a new 25' vertical sign featuring the new logo, but work has commenced on renovating the 7,500 ft<sup>2</sup> warehouse. The new exterior of the showroom will be made to look like a work of art with the use of stainless steel and will feature an array of plumbing, lighting, tile, and outdoor living products.

Blackman President and Chairman of the Board, Robert Mannheimer, says, "We are excited to unveil the plans for this state of the art showroom, which is the first of its kind. Located on Route 17, one of the busiest shopping areas in New Jersey, the new showroom is designed keeping the plumbers, homeowners, and interior designers in mind."

In addition to the new space and sign, other amazing things happening in Mahwah include:

- Winning 201 Magazine's "Best of the Best Award" thanks in part to their previous relationship with John Colaneri and Anthony Carrino from HGTV's hit show Kitchen Cousins.
- A new, custom elevator that is state of the art will be included in the designs of the new showroom.
